“ I'm so sorry to hear this. Haven't seen much of Clayton in the last couple years but occasionally he would drop by. When he was a teenager he spent a lot of time at my house. He's been friends with my son for a long time. He was funny, silly, and knew how do magic on cars. I will never forget how much he loved his grandmother and talked often about her. He was very loyal to his family and willing to defend them whenever needed. Through the years many young men and women spent time at my house, and for a while. they were just one of my kids. They ate here. slept here, and got lectured when they needed it. Each one left an impression on my heart. God welcome him with open arms.
